HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN.

BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.

—Like the birds, when Spring comes we return.
—Spring is here to a dead certainty now.
—Now that Lent is over dancing will be in order again.
—Coal piles are more stationary than they were a few weeks ago.
—Farmers are all busy now preparing for the Spring crops.
—Twelve cents per pound makes hams "awful salty."
—"Hen fruit" seems to be plenty at 12½ cents per dozen.
—House and yard cleaning is in order now.
—Spring colts are beginning to make their appearance upon the streets.
—A few of our anglers have tried their luck in Patoka this week, but with rather poor success so far.
—Capt. Peckinpaugh is visiting Leavenworth, New Albany and Louisville this week.
—Brit Leming is in town spending a few days, and nursing a dislocated finger.
—Those old familiar words of "ge-who" "wop," "getup" &c., can be heard all around us.
—Every body is making garden with the expectation of having the earliest "cucumbers."
—Seed potatoes are very scarce and command from $1 to $1.25 per bushel in the market.
—The carpenters are busy at work on the new building of F. Touini, on East Main street.
—The juveniles are beginning to abandon boots, shoes, coats &c., since the warm weather set in.
—John Barthel, who has been visiting here during the winter, left for his home in Louisville yesterday.
—There was a very pleasant social gathering at the residence of Captain Peckinpaugh last Monday night. Also, at Mrs. Young's, the same night.
—Marshal Rose has been improving the street crossings this week. They are kept swept during the Summer by our numerous fashionable young ladies with trailing skirts.
—The days are yet not quite long enough. Riley Chrisman, Wes. Greens, and a few others frequently have to stop playing croquet on the 19th game on account of the darkness.
—Since Dr. Hannaman was here the other day, railroad news has been various. Several times we have heard that the road was already built within sight of Jasper.
—Last Saturday night an old tramp came into town from the country, and while wandering around the public square, some one hit him and knocked him down, cutting a considerable gash on his head. Such treatment is not usually given persons in Jasper, and the party or parties who did this ought to be punished severely.

—A CORRESPONDENT, writing from Athens, curiously contrasts the mixtures to be found there of ancient and modern civilizations. Railroads spin their trains amid the temples of the thousand years; steamers dash their swells upon the Pireus, and the scream of their whistles resound from Atoha, Pentileus and Cytheron to Olympus and the heavens beyond their gods. Dr. Ayer's world-renowned medicines, those consummations of modern science, are posted on the Acropolis, the Parthenon, the Areopagus and Thesion, while the modest cards of Cherry Pectoral, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Ague Cure and Pills look from the windows of the shops in the streets of Athens, where they are sold.—[New York Globe.]

Evansville to have the Pension Agency.
Evansville is to strip from Madison its Pension Agency. The three cities having such agencies will then be Port Wayne, Evansville and Indianapolis. This is a fair distribution of the offices from a geographical standpoint, which was not the case when one was located at Madison. Secretary Delano has already promised to remove the office here next May. We have the best authority for this statement.—[Evansville Courier.]

Don't be in a hurry to pull off your heavy clothing. Fires will yet be comfortable.

When a young man in Pantagonia falls in love with a girl, he doesn't visit her six nights a week and twice on Sunday, and feed her upon molasses, candy and gum-drops, and sit up until 2 o'clock in the morning gazing and burning the old man's oil—and that sort of thing. Not at all. Courtship in Pantagonia is much more simple. He lassoes the girl, drags her home behind his horse, and that's all the marriage ceremony necessary. Such a marriage ceremony will never become popular in this country, however, because so many of our young men can't afford to own a horse.—Ex.

Will Capehart thinks this plan of capturing a wife a good one, and has bought himself a horse for the purpose of trying it. So look out, ladies, when you see him cuttically galloping on his fiery steed.

Liberty or Death.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.

Eighty convicts in the State Prison, at work in the foundry, made a bold and desperate attempt to escape at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They suddenly quit work overpowered the guard, tied and bound them, and succeeded in partially cutting a hole through the outer wall, when the general alarm was given and the outside guards rushed to the rescue, and on top of the walls forced the convicts, at the muzzle of their Spencer rifles, to desist from any further attempt at escape. The leaders in the conspiracy were promptly dealt with, and all is quiet.

Gen'l. Levi Sparks, a public spirited citizen, widely known as a leading politician, and for many years mayor of this city, died at 10 o'clock to-day from dropsy of the chest and bowels. The disease originated from the shrinkage of his liver.

A New School Law.

A circular from the Superintendent of Public Instruction, addressed to the County Superintendents, gives a synopsis of the recent changes in the school law. The election of County Superintendents is taken away from the Township Trustees and applicants for teachers' license, pay one dollar for examination. The salary of County Superintendents is reduced and their duties restricted in some particulars.

Coroner's Inquest.

NOTICE is hereby given that an inquest was held on the 7th day of March, 1875, by the undersigned, Jurors, duly summoned by the Coroner of Dubois County, to hold an inquest on the body of a person found dead in Lick Run creek, near where said creek mouths in Patoka river, in Madison township, in said county, and we make the following report:

The name of the deceased was William Linstrote; he was about 19 years of age, of dark complexion, and about 5 feet 10 inches in height, and had on his person when found blue jeans coat and pants and white flannel undershirt, checked cotton overshirt, coarse kip boots and black kid gloves. The valuables found in the possession of the deceased were one pocket book containing fifty-five dollars in currency and one case watch supposed to be worth ten dollars, one razor valued at one dollar, one pocket knife, one pencil, one whistle, one loose watch chain, one pocket handkerchief and one cake of shaving soap, all valued at one dollar. The total amount of money and valuables amounted to sixty-seven dollars, all of which were turned over to the proper persons. We find that he came to his death by drowning while attempting to cross Lick Run bottom, when said creek was out of banks, on March 2d, 1875.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colics, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that Cherry Pectoral will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy, it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.
